

Accolade Competition Deadline: March 15, 2006

Best of Show

Daniel Macy, Heinken Spot, commercials/public relations, builds a compelling case for the sponsor's product by showing how even a clumsily nerd can get a beautiful girl by bringing her the "right beer". No bells, no whistles, no fancy graphics or camera work, just an everyman theme with humor and quirky character development to sell product.

Julius R. Nasso Productions, One Eyed King, feature film, is set in Hell's Kitchen and tells the story of the Irish mob and its generations of gangsters. It's a tale of epic proportions, like The Godfather, with an all-star cast including William Baldwin, Armand Assante and Chazz Palminteri. Fast moving and highly entertaining.

Les Is More Productions, A Musical Journey With Richard Sherman, direction, is a charming featurette in which the legendary composer takes viewers on a magical journey that reveals many secrets about the music of Mary Poppins. Shot against a green-screen it flows exceptionally well, provides interesting background comentary and uses rare footage.

Michael S. Emerson Productions, The History Channel's: Hollywoods Greatest Villains, history/biographical, is a fascinating and terrifying glimpse of some of the most evil, and best-loved, characters ever created. This insightful film features interviews with Sharon Stone, George Lucas, John Carpenter, Glenn Close, James Earl Jones, and Martin Landau.
